Your stylish coffee break

ABOUT THECHICITALIAN

I'm Fiona Gobbo — also known as TheChicItalian — a style blogger from Amersfoort, The Netherlands with Italian heritage. I started this blog as a way to work on my content creation and social media skills and it has evolved to a personal style diary where I share how you can use your personal style for personal branding. There are many articles on what keeps me going as a twenty-something woman: personal style, career and ambitions, travel and a modern lifestyle.

TheChicItalian focuses on like minded women between 25-35 years old that love a classic base with designer accessories. They love quality items and don't mind spending a little more. They mostly live in a small to big city, are independent, want to build a successful career on their own terms and are always on the hunt to expand their horizons.

Next to blogging I'm also the owner of Fiona Gobbo Creative — a freelance brand designer studio. Through Fiona Gobbo Creative I create luxury brand identities, social media strategies and content. Prior to starting my own freelance business I studied marketing communications with a minor in branding and specialisation in content marketing. I also am a certified content creator with two years experience on the agency side. In other words, all I do and love is creating content.

My style is a mixture of classic pieces with an edge and a touch of the Italian style — put together, amazing handbag and quirky accessories that I wear with confidence. And I love sharing my Italian lifestyle — for my favorite coffee places to career ambitions to how I travel. What sets me apart is that I share content with an eye on how it helps with creating your own identity. I keep it fun, quick and informative so that my readers can read it on their coffee break.

BLOG TOPICS

Style or fashion

One of the main blog topics on TheChicItalian are the outfit posts and style guides. There is also 'The Chic List' which is a monthly updated list with my favorite items at the moment.

Career

As an ambitious woman I'm always interested in career related content. On the blog I write about career tips, career style, places to work from and gadgets to make any ambitious woman's life better.

Travel

On TheChicItalian I also share my travels in a way to inspire my readers. I share (light) packing lists, tips and city guides related to my own travels.

Lifestyle

Because I have a lot more other interest, I've made the lifestyle category. Here I share everything that's not related to the other categories — music, tv shows, apps, beauty, etc.
